Kelly Kay, Ph.D.(c)

Training Program Alumnus

- Executive Director of the Seniors Care Network
- Adjunct Professor at the University of Ontario Institute of Technology, Faculty of Health Sciences

Mentored by end users of research

Connected with engineers & software designers to explore practical applications of CFN work

Supported her existing work as Executive Director of the Seniors Care Network

Hands on Experience

Patient Mentors

“Their input helps me frame questions and ideas in a way that is relevant to seniors. I’ve learned so much from them both.”

Drive for the Future

“This experience has given me the drive and courage to apply for a Ph.D.,” says Kay, “which is something I would never have considered before.”

Kelly continues her involvement with CFN as a member of the Citizen Engagement Committee

Canadian Frailty Network